Through the kindness of Mr. Merle Patneau we were able to have our evergreen trees on the library lawn beautifully lighted through the week of Christmas.

The Library meeting of this district met at Candia this year, and the state library meeting was held in Exeter, both meetings were very interesting and helpful.

The children's story hour is continued with Mrs. Alfred French in charge.

Also children's book week was appropriately observed.

We wish to express our thanks to the trustees, patrons, etc., for their kindness and courtesy and to all who have given of their time as well as gifts. We have thoroughly enjoyed the work of the past year and hope to see more benefit and help through the use of the library.

COGSWELL SPRING WATER WORKS

The Board of Water Commissioners herewith submits its twenty-first annual report:

During the past fiscal year several services were changed from old system piping to the new system piping on both Western Avenue and Depot Street, which change furnishes better services to the subscribers affected. Pipe near the crest of Cemetery Hill, which has occasioned serious inconvenience in the past on account of freezing, was renewed and laid below the frost line from Stone's to Eastman's. Three new service connections were made.

Difficulties arising from the collection of water rents have become so acute as to demand a change of policy. This is to serve as notice that all services in arrears will be disconnected on June 1, 1935.

* Does not include pupils registered in another school in this district.

..No record given.

1. From the above it may be seen that there were about seven half-days less school than the year before, probably due to the severe winter weather.

2. The average membership has increased nearly 16. This is practically all in the Central school.

3. The number of tardinesses per pupil nearly doubled. Parents should aid the teachers as much as possible by getting pupils to school on time.

4. This is the third consecutive year that the Brick school has had 100 per cent attendance for the entire year. It is a wonderful record, an outstanding achievement not only for the teacher and pupils, but for the parents of the pupils. The latter have kept their children in good health, and doubtless have many times put school first when it would have been more convenient for them to keep a child out for a day. Being faithful to one's daily work not only helps scholarship in pupils, but is a factor in building good character.

At the beginning of the present school year an additional room was opened at the Central school. Mr. Philip Dodge was employed as principal of this building. He teaches the seventh grade and a part of the sixth. This relieves the congestion which prevailed in the building last year, and enables the teachers to do more work with the pupils needing it.

As a further improvement in this building we would recommend the elimination of the three-way lighting which is found in four of the rooms used. There is also an inadequate number of electric lights for use in the short, dark days of the late fall and early winter. A few improvements made each year ensure regular progress at least in the physical equipment of the district, and lays no great burden upon the treasury. However, the most essential part of any school system is its teachers. When a good teacher is found, it is poor policy to let her go to some other district when her services might be retained by a small increase in salary. There are no more good teachers available now than in the past.

In a wooden building as large as that in which the Central school is housed an efficient fire alarm system is necessary. It should be possible to give a fire signal from either the upper or lower floor or from the basement. Occasional fire drills have been given in this building this year, but the signal system is inadequate.

At the Quaker Street school there are only nine pupils this year. If this school is continued another year, the inside woodwork should be painted and the walls and ceiling refinished. Though the pupils in a small school may each receive a larger share of the teacher's time and attention than in a larger school, there is a lack of interest and loss of incentive which can be obtained only from the presence of several pupils who are doing the same work. The transportation of the pupils from Quaker Street to the Central school would cost less than the maintenance of a small separate school, and the children would thereby receive the benefits of a larger class group.

Under the provisions of the FEET, a nursery school is being maintained at the Central building. About twenty pupils between the ages of three and five years are enrolled. The salaries of the teacher, assistant teacher, and nurse for this group are paid from Federal funds. Some money for providing indoor and outdoor equipment and noon lunches for the nursery school comes from the same source. The only expense to the district is in heating the room and providing a small amount of the usual school supplies.

The good condition of the schools of the district is due in great degree to the leadership and interest of my predecessor, Supt. Almon W. Bushnell. In the short time that I have been working with the teachers and the school board for the best interests of the district and advancement of the pupils, I have found the relationship very pleasant. I wish to thank them for their co-operation and support.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN A. SINCLAIR,

Superintendent of Schools.
